

Recession Proof Your Business

Wolf is a performance-based expense solutions company.

We specialize in reducing operating expenses for our clients in various ways and have been doing so for over three decades.

Our areas of expertise include WolfPay, contract negotiations, wireline telecom, mobility, VoIP + strategic sourcing, print services, real property and real estate property tax.

We also offer WolfPay, our proprietary utility bill pay platform that allows us to monitor and track the client's utility spend. In addition to interfacing with the EnergyStar portal.

What We Do:

Wolf provides performance-based expense solutions. We return money and value to our client's bottom-line expenses across multiple areas of spend.

The Wolf team is comprised of hand-picked and vetted industry experts with decades of experience in their respective areas of endeavor.

For thirty-plus years, Wolf team members have individually and collectively reshaped the billing practices relative to their areas of expertise.

We are experts on how service agreements should be structured, what rates should be, and where to find billing errors, hidden charges, and added fees.

In addition, we negotiate with service providers to correct price services, correct errors, secure refunds, identify savings and rewrite the fine print in contracts to provide only the services companies truly need at the most cost-effective rates.

The success we consistently produce on behalf of our growing list of clients is nothing short of amazing. Wolf is very pleased that we continue to accomplish so much for many by reducing expenses.

It is a virtual certainty that savings are available across multiple, if not all bottom-line cost centers once the proper knowledge and expertise are brought to bear.

Reducing Expenses:

As businesses grow over time, so does the associated cost of doing business.

In today's economic environment, as we potentially head into a time of recession, it's crucial to reduce costs across all service areas as possible.

Everything Wolf does is specifically purposed to reduce bottom-line operating expenses.

The buzzword in today's economy is "recession proofing" which translates to the importance of reducing operating expenses to improve cash flow.
